

Is the Quran's Structure Based on Allah's Name?

Allah's Name:

Adding a single lam transforms meaning from generic god to The Only True God

$$\text{الله} = \text{ل} + \text{اله}$$

3 unique letters اله in a 4-letter name الله forming a pair of letters in the center

Thus, a {2,3,4} set, the letters are {3,4} forming a pair of lams

The Basmalah

3 names of Allah in a 4-word aya/verse {3,4} containing a pair of names {2,3,4}

Al-Fatiha

3 ayat/verses in worldly/dunya realm + 4 ayat in timeless/celestial realm {3,4} = 7 ayat

Basmalah ends in pair of names, 6 letters each, last aya 7 ends in a pair of paths corresponding to the paired names, thus first and last ayat form a pair {2,3,4}

The Last 3 Suras + The First

3 adjacent Suras in a 4-Sura Series connecting the end of the Quran to the beginning
Suras 113 and 114 are a significant pair {2,3,4} set - 112 + 113 + 114 + 1 = 340 {3,4} set

Aya count forms a series: 112 (4 ayat), 113 (5 ayat), 114 (6 ayat), 1 (7 ayat)

alif 112 "Allah is One;" lam 113 "Lord of Dividing" AlRahman; lam 114 "Lord of People" AlRaheem; heh 1 "the Opening" Basmalah - return & breath of life ◊

Placements of the Basmalah in the Quran

Last 3+First Surah numbers reflected in placements of Basmalahs:

112 unnumbered, 113 on top of surahs, 114 total, 1 in text, not on top

Last 3+1 Surah #'s Match References for 1st 4 Divine Names in Al-Fatiha

Surah:aya:word - Allah 1:1:2, Al-Rahman 1:1:3, Al-Raheem 1:1:4, Rabb Al-'alameen (2 words) 1:2:3:4 = 1+2+3+4=10 and 1+0=1.

Tawheed Statements in Quran (includes variations) - 30 la ilaha illa Hua of a total of 40

Statements {3,4}-These numbers are mentioned in 2 ayat relating to time (7:142, 46:15).

Entire Quranic Architecture

Spiral containing 114 chambers, 12 each turn of the spiral representing 12 months/year. Arranged as 3 sections per each of 4 quadrants, a {3,4} set. Also forms 2 hemispheres thus a {2,3,4} set. 114/12 = 9.5 years, x10 = 950 years, the time Noah stayed with his people. The Quran is a symbolic ark/ship, protecting those who "board" –read and live by– it from the cataclysm of Al-Akhira (Noah's flood symbolized).
